

ITI World Symposium

Osstell & W&H

Symposium

Introduction and OsstellConnect – the bridge to involve the entire treatment team in the patient journey!

Marcus Dagnelid - Sweden

Dr. Marcus Dagnelid is a Board Certified Prosthodontist. Originating from Gothenburg in Sweden, the birthplace of dental implants, Dr. Dagnelid literally started in the footsteps of Prof. Per Ingvar Brånemark and has worked together with several implant companies on product development. He has been an international lecturer for more than 18 years in different topics such as guided surgery, loading concepts, digital implant workflows and practice management. He has built and managed large specialist centers, and continuously speaks on how to create a true ethos and a successful company culture. Dr Dagnelid also serves as a clinical – and scientific advisor for several companies within the dental industry. He has been the moderator for the Osstell ISQ Symposium held both during EAO congresses and online since 2015.

ITI World Symposium

Osstell & W&H

Symposium

The patient journey in my daily practice

Jörg Neugebauer - Germany

Dental degree University Heidelberg, Several years' occupation in dental device industry, final position director R&D Implantology. Further on specialization in oral surgery, then consultant Interdisciplinary Outpatient Dep. for Oral Surgery and Implantology at Cologne University, director Prof. Dr. Dr. J.E. Zöller, received PhD and teaching licence in dentistry 2009 Since August 2010 private dental clinic Dr. Bayer and colleagues, Landsberg am Lech and teaching and research appointment University Cologne Since March 2021 Professor Steinbeis-University, Berlin, Transfer-Institut Management of Dental and Oral Medicine, Digitization in dentistry Due to his activity in various international organizations Dr. Neugebauer is part of an international and continuous science transfer for best knowledge care for his patient. Following that, he is President of the Academy of Osseointegration, USA in 2024/25. Research Topic Reliability of dental implant treatment, antimicrobial photodynamic therapy, Cone Beam CT, Surgical Guides, Minimal invasive implant therapy, Ceramic Implants, Treatment of Sleep Apnoea Numerous national and international peer reviewed publications and lectures Associate Editor The International Journal of Oral & Maxillofacial Implants Editor of the text book: Cone Beam Volumetric Imaging in Dental, Oral and Maxillofacial Medicine - Fundamentals, Diagnostics and Treatment Planning, Quintessence Publishing, Berlin, Chicago

ITI World Symposium

Osstell & W&H

Symposium

The Importance of implant stability measurements to optimize patient outcomes

Joan Pi-Anfruns - United States

Dr. Joan Pi-Anfruns was born and raised in Barcelona, Spain. He earned his degree as a Doctor of Dental Medicine in 2004 from the Universitat Internacional de Catalunya, Barcelona, Spain. He completed post-doctoral training in Implant Dentistry from New York University's Advanced Implant Program, Department of Periodontics and Implant Dentistry (2007). He joined the UCLA School of Dentistry in 2007, where he completed a Fellowship in Surgical Implant Dentistry (2014). Currently, Dr. Pi-Anfruns shares his time between private practice in Los Angeles, CA and as a part-time Assistant Clinical Professor at UCLA with a dual appointment in the sections of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery and Restorative Dentistry. He is a Diplomate of the Academy of Osseointegration and a Fellow of the International Team for Implantology.

ITI World Symposium

Osstell & W&H

Symposium

P4 implant dentistry: combining cutting edge technology and the world of data

Nikos Mattheos - Hong Kong SAR

Nikos Mattheos is a periodontist, researcher and an academic teacher. He is currently Visiting Professor at Chulalongkorn University, Bangkok, Thailand and affiliated with the Faculty of Odontology, Karolinska Institute and Malmö University, Sweden. Having started in the University of Athens, he went on to attain a Masters degree in Health Informatics at the University of Malmö, Sweden, where he continued with PhD and completed specialist training in Periodontology. He then attained a 3 year-residency in Fixed Prosthodontics and Implant Dentistry in the University of Bern, Switzerland under Professor N.P. Lang. He has held academic positions in Sweden, Australia and Hong Kong, including designing and directing of the postgraduate programmes and hospital clinics in Implant Dentistry. Other academic appointments include Associate Dean for Postgraduate education and Assistant Dean for Undergraduate Education. His research is disseminated through more than 120 publications in international peer reviewed journals and he has received numerous awards, including the International Association of Dental Research researcher's award in 2003 and 2013 and the Andre Schroeder Award in 2014 and 2021. He is Associate Editor of the International Journal of Prosthodontics and also a world-class expert in dental education, in particular through on-line learning and media. He maintains private practice focused in oral rehabilitation and implant dentistry in Hong Kong.

